

Walking Safely

23 January 2012

In partnership with Enniskillen Neighbourhood Police we will be learning to walk safely near busy roads. P7 children from Enniskillen Model PS will come and act as a “walking buddy” ensuring that our children hold a bigger person’s hand. Adults will also be with the children.

Certificates will be awarded for Safe Walkers from PSNI. With the certificate we will be able to walk safely to see where our dinner is made at Enniskillen Model PS and be able to walk to Celtic Park for our Sport’s Day in June.

Gates

Parents. Please ensure that you close BOTH gates at the back of the school.

The back car park gate has been left open on occasions and this has obvious consequences!

Book Fair

The Scholastic Book Fair will be in school from Friday 3rd – Wednesday 8th February.

This is a display of books suitable for pre-school children, which you can browse and then buy/order. It will be set up in the front porch area. The school gets commission on sales, so we encourage you to purchase books. The books are extremely good value.

Friday will be a “Browsing Day”. The books will be on sale between Monday and Wednesday, at the start and finish of each session.

If you want a particular book it can be ordered and delivered to school within a few days.

We will need parents to help run this event. If you help, please let a member of staff know.

Building Work

As you will be aware work has begun on the front porch in school. Disruption to teaching will be kept to a minimum.

We plan to use the extension as a stimulus for play. The children are already excited about the project and are planning their own building works. If you have any old plans, safe tools or anything we could “play” with around this theme please feel free to bring these into school.

Plans for the extension will be on display in the conservatory for you to view.

Grandparent’s Day

Please don’t forget Grandparent’s Day. All grannies and grandpas welcome to come for the last half hour of each session for a cuppa and singing.
